

The Tailings is an 18-hole Disc Golf Course that plays along the Iron River and up and down some beautiful and extreme hillsides and former mining areas sloping down to the river. Changes in elevation make for a scenic and unique nature walk and provide a challenge for even the most advance players.

The course offers very tight wooded corridors, uphill, downhill, throwing along and also across the Iron River, and a great balance of shot selection. In 2015, a newly formed group of volunteers will be making a large push to develop and maintain the course, including making the course more friendly for less advanced players. If you would like to find out more information about volunteering, tournaments, or course activity, please visit the Tailings Disc Golf Course on Facebook or call (262)488-7443.
